

Storm Sinks Ore Ship In Huron; 28 Die

Ship Survivor Signed On With Fear Of Lakes

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. (AP) — When Dennis Hale signed on the freighter Daniel J. Morrell it was with a fear of Great Lakes storms.

"He was awful scared about storms," said his wife, Bertha. "He was always afraid."

But Hale was the lucky one — he survived.

At least 12 of his sailing mates perished when the Morrell split during a raging storm and plunged to the bottom of Lake Huron.

Sixteen other crewmen were missing.

Out 34 Hours

Hale was rescued 34 hours after the Morrell went down in freezing temperatures. A Coast Guard helicopter found him huddled under three bodies on a raft eight miles northeast of here.

He was suffering from exposure. A priest administered last rites.

"Father, why am I alive?" Hale asked.

"You are alive because God wanted you to be alive," said the Rev. Cornelius McEchin.

"First, perhaps God wants me to be alive," Hale, 24, replied.

"And secondly, perhaps God wants me to suffer a little before I die."

Doctors said they expected the deck watchman, hospitalized here, to pull through.

Hale, whose wife and four children live in Ashtabula, Ohio, his hometown, said he was asleep in his bunk in the Morrell when awakened by "a hard thump."

"I heard the emergency alarm, got dressed and ran topside," he said. "The ship was breaking in half."

He and the three other men launched the raft.

"As we were floating out I could see the two halves of the ship hitting each other," he said. "They had separated and the back part still had power and kept ramming the front part."

"The buckled and she sank," he said.

Mrs. Hale said her husband had been reluctant to join the crew of the Morrell three years ago because of the dangers. But he signed on anyway.

"There just wasn't anything else available as far as money and jobs," Mrs. Hale said.

UFOs Not Ships Of Other Worlds Says Dr. Duiper

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dr. Gerald Duiper, who heads the University of Arizona Lunar and Planetary Laboratory, says there are no such things as space flights from other worlds.

During a discussion Wednesday before the Pima County Bar Association, he said unidentified flying objects are "simply unexplained reports."

"The sightings can be explained as meteors, comets, lightning bolts and other related natural occurrences," Duiper said.

Bundestag Picks Kiesinger, Ends German Crisis

BONN, Germany (AP) — Members of the two major parties agreed to support a coalition Cabinet headed by him to end the 34-day government crisis.

The two parties have been rivals since the republic's birth in 1949. Their coalition was generally considered a temporary expedient until the general elections in 1969, if it holds together that long.

Kiesinger succeeds Ludwig Erhard, whose coalition with West Germany's third party, the Free Democrats, fell apart Oct. 27 in a budget dispute over raising taxes to pay for U.S. arms. Both Kiesinger and Erhard are Christian Democrats.

As junior partners in the precedent-breaking "grand coalition," the Social Democrats were given nine of the 19 Cabinet posts to be announced later today.

Socialist leader Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, was named vice chancellor and foreign minister.

US Force Will Be Alert For Truce Breaking

WASHINGTON (AP)—American and allied forces in Viet Nam will use air power if necessary to defend themselves against any Viet Cong violations of the holiday truce, sources disclosed today.

These officials expect the fighting pause to be more difficult for the Communists to control than for the allies.

Consequently, instructions are being given to fit the response to the degree of Communist attack.

In Chicago, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told reporters Wednesday, "Everybody remembers last year and the violations of the truce by the other side. We will have to watch our selves and keep ourselves in a position to shoot back."

Asked whether he thought the truce might be a step toward peace talks, Rusk said, "We have not seen any basis for that."

Officials in Washington discounted reports that American military men here and in Viet Nam universally deplored the truce of two days each at Christmas and at New Year's and four days in February at the lunar new year.

Rhodesia Showdown Starting In Malta

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson and rebel Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith agreed to meet today in a showdown attempt to end Rhodesia's rebellion.

The confrontation will take place in conditions reminiscent of the secret meetings of statesmen during World War II — probably aboard the British cruiser Tiger off the Mediterranean island of Malta.

The British government has been preparing to ask the U.N. Security Council to vote mandatory sanctions against Rhodesia if Smith did not give way by this weekend. British officials attributed the retreat they said the Rhodesians had made to the influence of South African Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster's government, whose support has enabled the Rhodesians to circumvent partial sanctions already in force.

Smith left Salisbury before dawn in a Royal Air Force Comet which had taken Sir Maurice James, a special British envoy, to the Rhodesian capital Tuesday night. With Smith and James were Britain's governor in the colony, Sir Humphrey Gibbs.

During September Wilson headed off the demands of African and Asian members of the commonwealth for a British military expedition to crush the rebellion. He pledged that if one last attempt at a settlement failed, Britain would ask the U.N. Security Council to impose certain mandatory sanctions on the Rhodesians by Christmas.

Sole Survivor Protected By Bodies Of Dead

HARBOR BEACH, Mich. AP — Rescue forces searched the storm-lashed area of Lake Huron today where the Daniel J. Morrell sank with a feared loss of 28 lives and only one known survivor. It was the worst Great Lakes disaster in eight years.

Eleven bodies were recovered Wednesday. The Coast Guard spotted a 12th body next to an empty life-raft but said gale-force winds and huge waves prevented it from recovering the corpse.

More than two days of snow squalls and subfreezing temperatures cut down hopes that the freighter's other 16 crewmen survived by launching lifeboats and riding out the gale.

Storm Hit Fate

Its fate concealed by the storm for 34 hours, the 603-foot Morrell snapped in two Tuesday morning and sank in 145 feet of water 20 miles northeast of Harbor Beach, a town at the tip of Michigan's Thumb District.

Twenty-nine crewmen were aboard, said John Hanninen, a legal representative of Bethlehem Steel Co. which had leased the 60-year-old ship.

"I saw two life boats launched before the ship sank," said deck watchman Dennis Hale, the survivor. Plucked from a lifeboat by a helicopter, Hale was clad in undershorts, pajamas and a pea jacket when found lying beneath the bodies of three crewmates who died from exposure.

An empty lifeboat bobbed on waves near the coast and a life ring and debris from the Morrell washed up on the snow-covered shore at the northern tip of the Thumb District. The wreckage was found by a 100-man search party that scoured the shoreline during heavy snow.

Storm Hampers Search

The blinding snow hampered the search by three Coast Guard cutters over a 400-square-mile area of Lake Huron. The storm grounded Coast Guard aircraft during most of the hunt.

Any crewmen not in life boats would have died within three hours in the 36-degree water, the Coast Guard said.

Hale, 26, of Ashtabula, Ohio, was sleeping when he "heard a hard thump."

"I thought the anchor was dropping," he said. Books tumbled off a shelf in his room and he jumped out of bed.

"I heard the emergency alarm. The ship was breaking in half," Hale said. He launched the raft with three other crewmen.

"As we were floating out on this raft I could see the two halves (of the ship) hitting each other," he said. "They had separated and the back part still had power and kept ramming the front part."

Buckled And Sank

"She buckled and sank," Hale said.

Hale was reported in good condition at a hospital.

"The weird thing" about the 12,500-ton Morrell, said a Coast Guard spokesman, was "there was no distress signal."

Winds up to 60 miles an hour and waves 20 feet high lashed the Morrell.

Not since the freighter Carl D. Bradley sank Nov. 18, 1958, have so many crewmen of a freighter died on the Great Lakes. The Bradley lost 33 of its 35 crewmen when it plunged to the bottom of Lake Michigan during a similar storm. Like the Morrell, the Bradley

Rebuild Cable For TV Here; Add Weather

American Cablevision has started reconstruction of its television cable system in Escanaba and Gladstone, reports Jack Bradshaw, regional manager.

The work, he said, will cost more than $100,000 and is being done by Cable Constructors of Iron Mountain, a firm owned by James Klunghness and Charles Henry, who formerly owned the local cable system.

The present cable system was constructed in the fall of 1960 by Delta TV Signal Distribution Co. headed by Todd Gayeff and started service then. All of the 75 miles of cable in the system in Escanaba and Gladstone and fringe areas is being replaced, says Bradshaw and all the amplifiers are being replaced.

The purpose of the reconstruction, he said, is to upgrade the quality of reception and to add more channel capacity. The cable has 5 channels of commercial service now, 3 from Green Bay TV stations, one from Marquette, and the educational TV program from WNMU-TV at Northern Michigan University, Marquette.

Techniques have been developed since the cable system was built, said Bradshaw and the new equipment will give better service with less maintenance and result in fewer outages.

There will be some outages of service in daytime only during the construction period but none in prime TV time in the evening, said Bradshaw.

The work is starting in Gladstone with a 12-man crew of Cable Constructors at work and American Cablevision will have a crew of 8 to do follow-up work. Most of the service lines from cables to homes will be replaced. The work will take six months.

The new cable system will provide a channel for 24-hour weather report, giving the temperature, wind velocity, barometric pressure and time. The backup will be taped music. The weather data will be collected by equipment on the roof of the cable firm's Escanaba office at 612 Ludington St.

Season Near End:

Ore Shipments Top Last Year, C&NW Reports

Near-zero temperatures today gave a cold reception to December and ushered in the last 15 days of the ore shipping season by the Chicago & North Western Railway at Escanaba.

Despite the recent snowstorm and the present cold wave it has been a very good year," said L. A. McMillan, North Western dock agent.

"In fact it might be counted among our very best, for we are already ahead of last year and we will come near the record 8 1/2 million tons of ore the North Western loaded out at Escanaba in 1960," the dock agent added.

Much depends on the weather within the next 15 days, of course, but the North Western expects to load out about 20 more boats before the navigation season comes to a halt.

The last ore boat was loaded out at Escanaba on Dec. 18 last year, and the season may run to about the same date this year—again depending on the weather.

The cold and winds of the past few days have caused difficult working conditions for the dock workers, said McMillan. The big dock—1,920 feet long and 70 feet high—is exposed to the full fury of the frigid wind. "Just to be out there working is quite an experience in weather like this," McMillan said.

The dock operation was halted during the height of the snowstorm earlier this week, but it was operating on Tuesday when the ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell, with a crew of 28, sank in Lake Huron. While the Morrell had not loaded at Escanaba this year, she had taken on cargoes of ore a number of times in prior years, McMillan said.

The North Western loaded out 632,310 tons of ore in 46 boats in November to bring the ore shipment total so far this year to 6,084,351 tons.

This compares to 617,712 tons of ore loaded into 44 boats in November for a season total of 5,833,596 tons.

Pellet Ore 55% The 6,084,351 tons to Dec. 1 this year tops the total for all of 1965, which was 6,064,785 tons.

About 55 per cent of the ore moved through Escanaba by the North Western is pelletized. The volume of pellet ore continues to gain and is up about 50 per cent above a year ago.

The remainder of the ore handled here is natural ore, which contains a considerable volume of moisture and in cold weather freezes in the ore cars, making it difficult to dump into the ore pockets at the dock.

In weather like today's—with the temperature near zero—the cars of natural ore may have to be run through a thawing house where the ore is loosened under a battery of infra-red lamps before it is taken to the dock for loading. The last cargo of natural ore this season will be loaded into the carrier Wilfred Sykes, one of the largest and oldest state association in the nation, the Wildlife Management Institute reports.

Supervisors Call U.P. Meeting

The Upper Peninsula Supervisors' Association mid-winter business meeting will be held on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2-3, at the Dickinson Hotel, Iron Mountain.

Harold Gustafson, Ensign, president of District No. 1 Supervisors, said an interesting and informative program has been arranged. Taking part in the Friday afternoon program will be D. Hale Brake, education director of the State Association and William E. Denison, secretary of the State Association of Supervisors.

Reports will be given in the afternoon from a number of Upper Peninsula development organizations and Federal agencies. These annual reports help keep the local supervisors abreast of economic developments in the U. P.

The banquet Friday evening will have as its toastmaster Cliff Johnson, mayor of Kingsford and chairman of the Dickinson County Board of Supervisors. The welcome will be given by Jack Gingras, mayor of Iron Mountain and newly elected representative from the 109th district to the Michigan House of Representatives.

Al Vander Laan of Calendone, president of the State Association will give a brief address and other elected officials will be heard. The principal speaker of the evening banquet will be Probate Judge V. Robert Payant, who will speak on the subject of The Reorganization of the Michigan Court System.

Election of officers will take place at 8 p. m. Friday and the formal business session commences Saturday morning at 8:30.

All elected Michigan legislators representing the U. P. have been invited to attend, as well as Congressional representatives, said Phil A. Miron, Ford River, secretary of the Association.

Changing Catholicism

Michigan in its Roman Catholic Church organization has the Dioceses of Grand Rapids, Lansing, Saginaw and Marquette and the Archdiocese of Detroit.

They brought laymen into consultation with churchmen in the organization known as Michigan Catholic Charities and later even more so into the newer Michigan Catholic Conference, into which Catholic Charities have now been incorporated as a department.

A leader in both Catholic Charities and Catholic Conference who earned the respect of the lay members for his progressive leadership in this new field of church endeavor involving the laity more actively in the operation of the church is Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit. When he went to Detroit to succeed the late Edward Cardinal Mooney in 1958 there was concern about finding a churchman of the stature of the cardinal.

The man chosen was born in New England and grew up in the Midwest. Father Dearden had only one parish assignment in his career, for three years at Painesville, Ohio and then he returned to St. Mary's Seminary to teach. He was named bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh and established 25 new parishes there and increased school enrollments nearly 50 per cent. He went to Detroit as archbishop for the 1.5 million Catholics of the archdiocese of eight counties in 1958 and the judgment on him by Catholics and non-Catholics has been that he is a worthy successor to Cardinal Mooney.

In Detroit he has emerged as a strong force in the Negroes' effort for freedom and escape from poverty and he has been a vocal opponent of discrimination in jobs and housing. He has greatly enlarged the role of the layman in the church in actions which have had statewide influence and his full stature was revealed in the Vatican II conference in Rome in which the Catholic Church reviewed its policies.

Newsweek says "He emerged as a no-nonsense reformer at the Vatican Council, where as chairman of a Council Commission on Marriage, he stoutly prevented Pope Paul VI from inserting conservative changes regarding birth control into the schema on the Church in the Modern World. In his own archdiocese Dearden has encouraged priests to form clerical associations, brought laymen — and lay women — into high administrative posts, and pushed parish programs in ecumenical and civil interracial relations."

Archbishop Dearden has been elected the first head of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops in the United States, as directed by Vatican II to reform the American church within some limitations. This reform and high honor for Michigan's top Catholic churchman come at a time of world attention on Catholic church reform.

The near furor over the end of the rule that American Catholics will not eat meat on Fridays unless dispensed has attracted almost as much attention as the pronouncement on birth control.

The end of abstinence was welcomed but the joy was flyspecked for some by the bishops' urging of voluntary abstinence on Fridays by Catholics of some kind — more pertinent would be performing acts of charity, practicing self-discipline in the use of stimulants and exercise of temperance "especially in the use of alcoholic beverages."

The lay press was generally critical of the bishops' charge that "government activities increasingly seek aggressively to persuade and even coerce the underprivileged to practice birth control as a condition of gaining relief benefits." The bishops said that this was an infringement upon "the freedom of spouses to determine the size of their families." The charge offended the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare, which said the U. S. anti-poverty program gives birth control advice and assistance only to those who ask for it. The church charge was not documented. "The bishops had turned their backs on tomorrow," the News in Archbishop Dearden's home Detroit lamented.

But there was general praise for the bishops' statement on race relations, which was forceful and helpful, although moderately phrased.

Archbishop Dearden pointed to what he regarded as the most significant work of the bishops' week as "the application in our discussions of the principle of episcopal collegiality. (This means that the bishops share the Pope's supreme authority over the church.)"

"To assure the involvement of many bishops in the work of our conference the administrative board has been increased four times. Such broadened representation from bishops of different ages and regions will assure a keener awareness of aspirations and necessities of the entire flock committed to our care."

Dearden is building a structure of reform that holds forth hope for more effective works of faith and more intimate relationship between his church and today's society.

JUNKET

The recent news story of five members of the Michigan Legislature taking an all expenses paid "junket" to Japan and the Far East is an affront to the intelligence of the people of our state and a graphic example of the financial irresponsibility of the democratically controlled legislature.

Fortunately there is available a simple and effective remedy for the salary grabbing, thrifless body that now controls Michigan — if and when the taxpayers are ready to demand it.

Ecumenism On Anniversary

Lutheran-Catholic Dialogs Are Planned For Next Year

Cooperative Lutheranism's new leader said at its meeting in Cleveland recently that the 450th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation will be celebrated next year by efforts to mend the troubles caused by the breakup of Christian solidarity.

The first president of the newly created Lutheran Council in United States of America (LCUSA), Dr. Melvin H. Lundeen, said that 1967 will be marked by such ecumenical actions as Lutheran-Catholic dialogs in the large cities of the nation.

Dr. Lundeen is secretary of the Lutheran Church in America, which joined with the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod and the Synod of Evangelical Lutheran Churches to form LCUSA, a cooperative agency pooling the efforts of Lutheranism in a number of non-doctrinal areas.

He said in an interview that the agency may "in God's good time lead to organic union" of the four denominations, but he hesitated to predict either a date or a decade in which this might occur.

The four Lutheran groups will, however, combine their efforts in sponsoring next year's anniversary events on the theme, "Life... New Life," he said.

The anniversary marks the occasion in 1517 when the German Augustinian friar, Martin Luther, nailed to the door of the castle church at Wittenberg his 95 "theses" or questions on which he differed with the church of Rome.

"Next year's observances will tell the modern day story of the Reformation and Martin Luther's role," Dr. Lundeen said, "not simply as a historical fact of the past, but as a necessary, on-going experience of the present."

"This is essential if the church is going to have any significant contribution to make to life."

"Its ecumenical thrust is seen in the plans for a series of Lutheran-Catholic 'dialogs' in key locations across the country as well as in cooperation with fellow Protestants. These are being actively sought and given."

The "key locations" have not as yet been selected, but the spokesmen said they "felt certain" Detroit would be one of them.

A report before the new agency suggests that the anniversary "might be utilized as an occasion to initiate a long-range study whereby competent Catholic educational scholars would study Lutheran religious education materials for evidence of misleading statements, particularly those which might lead to ungrounded prejudices.

In turn, the report said, "Lutheran scholars (would) reciprocate this wholesome service by studying Catholic curriculum materials."

On the matter of Lutheran unity, Dr. Lundeen said a major point that first must be established is altar and pulpit fellowship, an agreement in which the various Lutheran denominations would share a common ministry and communion table.

Because of this existing separation, the new agency will not engage in a common ministry to college students, nor cooperatively parcel out American mission areas.

"It is our hope that through working and studying together these developments would now come about," Dr. Lundeen, a New Yorker, said.

He said there already is a "marked improvement" in inter-Lutheran relations resulting from the five years of planning that have gone into the formations of LCUSA.

By WASHINGTON STAFF WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In virtually every congressional office, there's a "ribbon clerk" — someone responsible for clipping the newspapers. This occupation is no longer as dreary as it used to be.

One staffer, who had injured his leg earlier, was clipping away recently when the leg buckled and he fell. The staffers stabbed him in the abdomen and he was rushed to the hospital.

Though painful, the wound was not critical.

"Ribbon clerks" may soon be demanding hazardous duty pay.

Quote of the Week: From National Park Service Director George Hartzog: "A friend of mine was riding down Pennsylvania Avenue in a taxi when he passed the National Archives Building. He read aloud the inscription on it, 'What is Past is Prologue.' 'That,' said his cab driver, 'is just government talk. What it really means is—Brother, you ain't seen nothing yet.'"

For pure "nuts and bolts" political fans, the Pennsylvania governorship contest between Republican Lt. Gov. Raymond Schafer and Democratic industrialist Milton Shapp was the equivalent of the NFL championship.

The interest centered on the battle of wits between Joseph Napoleon, Shapp's chief campaign consultant—an exponent of the "new politics" (in-depth attitude polls and quality media advertising)—and GOP State Chairman Craig Truax, who relies on a streamlined organization.

We don't know whether today's hand should qualify as strategy in bridge or just high-way robbery. South was the late Fred Kaplan, a brilliant lawyer and avid bridge player who believed that the element of surprise would win both lawsuits and bridge tournaments.

Fred's two no-trump call illustrates the element of surprise. Any other good player would respond two clubs or maybe one heart and try to steer eventual no-trump play to his partner, but not Fred. He liked to play all hands and he hoped that he would get the benefit of a heart or club lead if he concealed strength in both suits.

Such hopes are usually ill founded. Somehow or other opponents lead their best suits which are likely to be your worst and West opened the five of spades.

Fred looked over dummy and studied the opening lead. It was surely fourth best which meant that West held four, five or six spades and that East would hold at least three. The situation looked hopeless. Fred could run eight tricks but that would be all.

He could accept one down if he wished but Fred was not a man to accept one down. He saw one chance to make his contract. It will risk a set of several tricks but Fred didn't care.

He won the first spade trick with dummy's ace and led the jack of hearts. What would you do if you were East? This East assumed that Fred had the king of spades and played low. Fred hopped up with his king. It held and his one down had been changed to game made.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A University of Michigan medical student was declared the winner of a medical ethics essay contest sponsored by the Judicial Council of the American Medical Association.

Ann Landers

If She Doesn't Ask Let's Just Shut Up

Dear Ann Landers: What is the world coming to anyway? My 17-year-old niece, Geraldine, announced with pride that she is pregnant and is getting married next month. She wants a church wedding with bridesmaids and ushers — and her parents are going to let her have it.

Yesterday her mother told me that instead of a bridal bouquet Geraldine is going to carry a bouquet of wheat. This has been her dream ever since she saw it in a movie. Wheat is the symbol of fertility.

I say the girl has already proven she is fertile (everyone in town is talking) and she doesn't need to carry wheat as evidence. Please express your opinion. If she does this stupid thing, she will never live it down. — CONCERNED AUNT

Dear Aunt: I agree that Geraldine will be the object of stinging ridicule if she goes ahead with her plans. She didn't ask me, however, and unless she has asked you, let's BOTH keep out of it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of four sons (one set of twins) all in college.

After years of having our dinner interrupted by telephone calls from girls, I announced that I was sick of passing the telephone from one to another, with the cord dragging in the plates while the dinner gets cold. I asked the boys why, if they want to talk to the girls, they don't do the calling. There was a shrugging of shoulders and this statement: "The reason they call us is because nobody is calling them."

It seems to me such a girl would appear less attractive to a boy, but nobody said so. It also occurred to me that girls who call boys are insecure and boys who encourage girls to call them enjoy being pursued.

Our young men have part-time jobs along with their college and we are pleased with them, generally. But this thing about the girls bothers me. What is your opinion? — WEST COAST MOTHER

Dear Mother: So long as there are girls in the world, some of them will call boys. A boy's mother, however, can make a rule — no more cords dragging in dinner plates while the soup gets cold. The girl should be told to call back later or the boy should call the girl, which is the way it ought to be in the first place, of course.

Dear Ann: I just read the letter from the teen-ager who wrote about her traveling salesman father who is never home for anybody's birthday or for Mother's Day.

I was surprised that you lit into the person who wrote the letter instead of the father who really deserved to be told off.

My dad is the same kind of father and I think you were wrong to defend such an inconsiderate person.

If a man can't give his family any more time than that, he shouldn't get married. What do you have to say now, Ann Landers? — PENELOPE

Dear Pen: If your father hadn't decided to get married, what would that make you?

To tell people they shouldn't have done something they've already done is no solution. The traveling man has chosen that means of making a living and his family should accept his absence without complaint.

No teen-ager is as confident as he appears. Get clued in. Send for ANN LANDERS' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts" enclosing your request $2c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

D.U.S. Supports Bay Cliff Camp

One of the nine agencies benefiting from the Delta United Services campaign is the Bay Cliff Health Camp.

A non-profit, non-denominational summer therapy center for physically handicapped children of the Upper Peninsula, Bay Cliff is located on 168 acres of land along Lake Superior near Big Bay in Marquette County.

It is believed to be the only facility of its kind in the United States that accepts children with any type of physical handicap regardless of race, creed or color. During its years of operation, the camp has helped over 5,000 children at no cost to them or their families.

Bay Cliff has 45 buildings and can now accommodate 170 children for a six-week session. Instructors are certified by the State Dept. of Public Instruction.

Last summer, 11 children from Delta County attended the session.

The camp program includes speech correction, lip reading, occupational therapy, physical therapy, special diets, classes for hard of hearing and other therapeutic aids.

DETROIT — Hanna Mining Co., has gotten rid of the last vessel in its fleet, the 612-foot steamer Mathew Andrews. It is reported she has been bought by the Reiss Steamship Co. The Andrews was built at Great Lakes Engineering Works in Ecorse in 1924 as the Edward J. Berwind, a name she retained until 1963. Hanna will continue to operate the National Steel Co. fleet.

Hollywood Plans Ersatz Christmas Tree Plantings

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This city soon will have its own Christmas tree lanes. But like many other things in the film capital, the trees won't be what they seem.

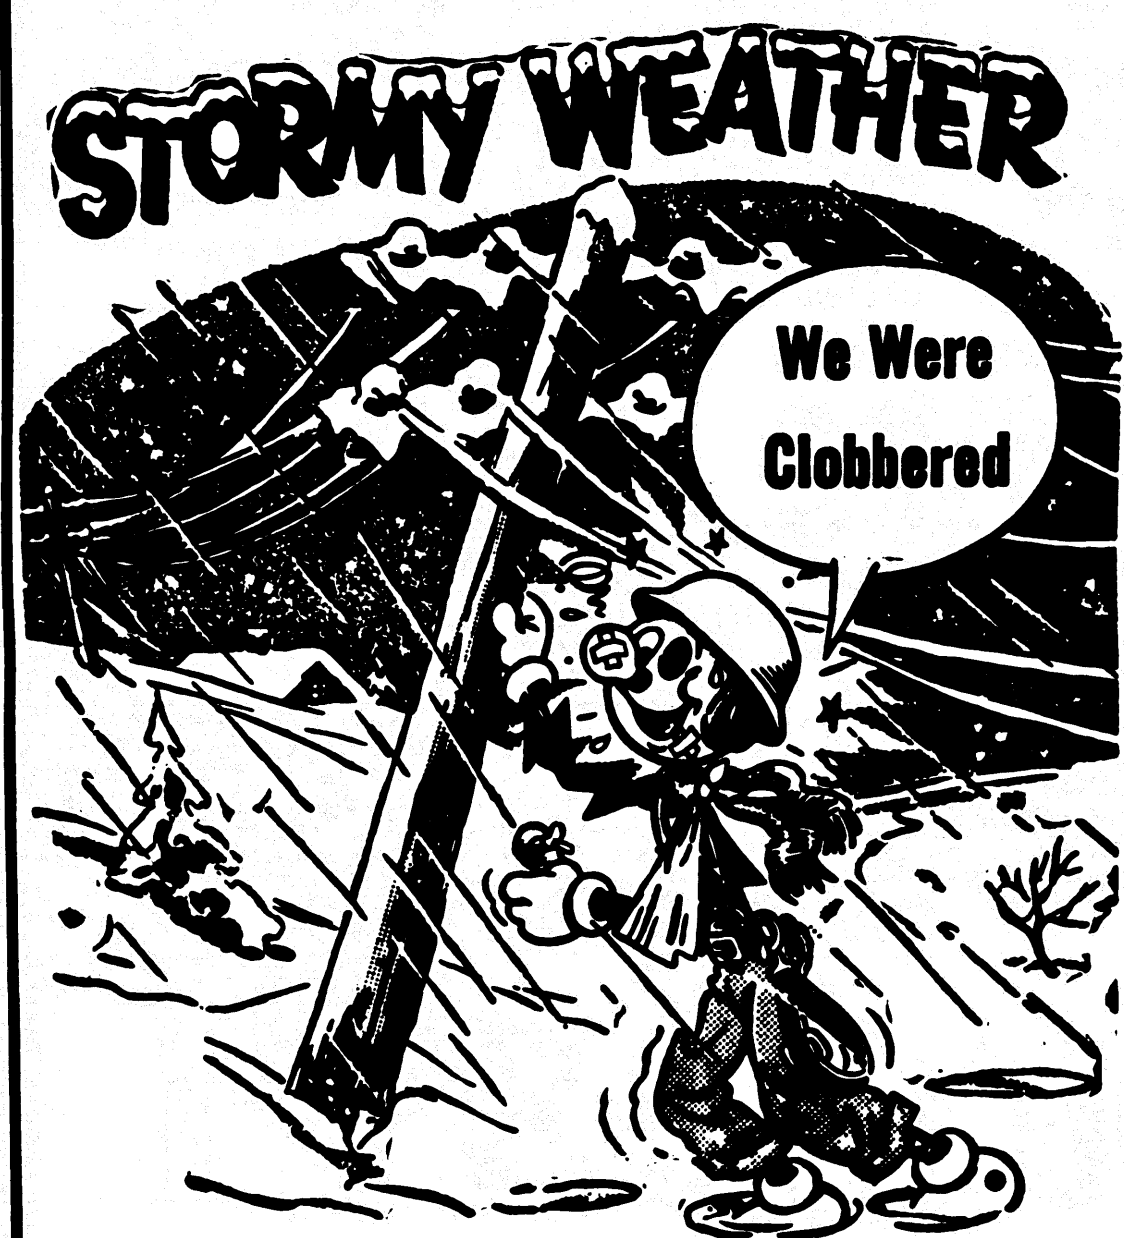

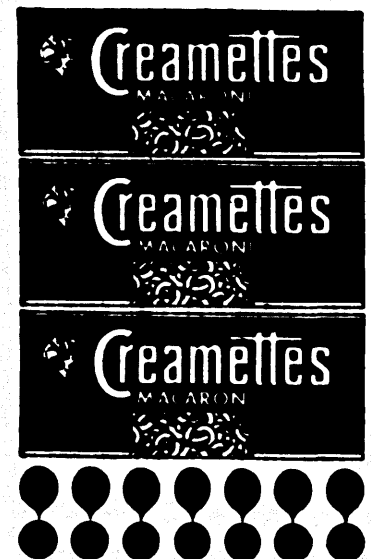

The City Council has voted to institute a $90,000 tree-planting program.

The trees will have supporting pipes which will be used to string colored lights during the Christmas season.

However, the 225 Christmas trees won't be traditional firs.

Planned instead is a form of Indian rubber tree called Ficus Nitida.

WE MAKE THEM...
ONE DAY SERVICE

Some folks say the snow and wind storm of November 27 and 28 was the worst they can remember. We in the U. P. are used to snow, but this storm clobbered us. Some of our linemen worked through the night until exhausted. Fortunately, our Bombardier with tank-like treads got us into the woods and swamps to repair broken wires where we could not have gotten through with ordinary construction equipment.

We at Wisconsin Michigan Power Company fully realize that you were seriously inconvenienced when you were deprived of electric service for many hours. We hope you realize that we did our best under very adverse conditions. Communications were difficult. Highways were clogged. We want to thank the Delta County Highway Department and Michigan State Police who helped us get through to repair the damage. We particularly want to thank the many people who, though snowed under with their own problems, still had a pleasant word and a smile for our men.

Music Of Hirn Family Helps 'Music Man' Too

FAMILY ENTERTAINMENT: "The Music Man" to be produced next week by Players de Noc also includes a "family" Lark and Jim Hirn. Curtain time for first performance of the play Monday at the Escanaba Area high school auditorium is 8 p. m. (Daily Press Photo)

The Players de Noc production of "The Music Man" has many talented musicians and actors familiar to Escanaba area residents.

Four of them are members of the Frank and Lillian Hirn family—Donald (Doc) Hirn, his wife, Marie, Jim Hirn and Mary C. Lark.

"Being one of Frank and Lillian's children there was nothing else. Music was it," said Mary.

Donald Hirn graduated from Escanaba high school where he was a member of the choir and also participated in an opera. After serving in the U. S. Navy and attending Ferris Institute, he came back to Escanaba and is now employed at Mead Corp.

He has been a member of St. Joseph's Church choir for 14 years, the same choir his parents were "practically lifetime members." He also belongs to the Barbershop chorus and has sung in two barbershop quartets, the "Spittunes" and "Ecky-Tones" which were well known throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Plays Salesman

When asked why he wanted to be in the "Music Man," Don said, "Well, it's a great musical comedy and a challenge that couldn't be passed by. I hope I can do my share to make it a success."

Don plays one of the traveling salesmen in the play and also takes the part of Olin Britt, a school board member who sings bass in the barbershop quartet formed by Professor Hill.

His wife, the former Marie J. Sundblad, is also in the cast and plays Ethel Toffelmier.

Active in music, Marie belonged to the double sextet which toured the Upper Peninsula and competed in the Chicago Music Festival in 1949. She was a member of the Orpheus and is a member and assistant director of the First Lutheran Church choir in Gladstone. She also directs the Delta County 4-H chorus.

Don and Marie have five children and reside in Gladstone.

Children Join

Mary C. Hirn Lark, wife of Leslie Lark of Escanaba, takes the part of Alma Hix in the play. Along with her sister-in-law, she performs as a gossip "River Citizen" and is in the ladies dance committee.

As a youngster, she participated in Christmas plays at St. Joseph's and was in the special chorus at junior high. In high school, she was active in drama and the high school choir. Later she was a member of the Orpheus, has belonged to the St. Joseph's choir for 15 years and was one of the first to join "Sweet Adelines," a women's barbershop group.

Mary and her husband have four children, two of which are in the "Music Man." Pat, 14, is one of the "Wan Tan Ye" girls and Samuel, 12, plays bass drum in the River City Boys Band.

The other Hirn in the play is Jim, a teacher at Escanaba Area high school. Jim was in band, chorus and orchestra while in high school and also spent two years in the U. S. Army band. He started singing in barbershop quartets while in college.

He was a member of the Orpheus and is a member of St. Joseph's choir, both good background for his solo roles in "The Music Man" chorus.

It's Official Now:

State's Canvassers Say Romney Winner

LANSING (AP) — It took the Board of State Canvassers about five minutes Wednesday to declare Gov. George Romney and U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin winners in the Nov. 8 election. But it took the board about five times that long to pick Charles Larnard Jr. as the winner of a one-month term on the Muskegon County Circuit Bench.

None of the unofficial results reported by the news media immediately after the election overturned.

The four-member board, two Republicans and two Democrats, certified returns showing Romney a winner by 327,184 votes over Democrat Zolton Ferency.

Griffin beat former Gov. G. Mennen Williams for a six-year

Senate term by 283,324 votes. The official totals:

GOVERNOR
Romney 1,408,547
Ferency 983,383
U.S. SENATE (Full Term)
Griffin 1,288,988
Williams 1,070,484

James C. Horvath got 8,017 votes for governor and Ralph W. Muncy got 6,108 for senator on the Socialist Labor Ticket.

Also certified were victories of the only two Democrats to win statewide partisan contests. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley got 1,232,149 votes to 1,091,882 for Republican Lawrence Lindemer. And Secretary of State James Hare beat GOP challenger George Washington 1,337,138 to 1,030,088.

Kelley's victory margin was 140,257 and Hare's was 307,052. Some 2,331,463 votes were cast in the attorney general race and voters cast 2,374,489 votes in the secretary of state contest.

Certified returns in the Supreme Court race, a technically non-partisan contest where the top two candidates are elected, showed:

Thomas Kavanagh 1,086,826
Thomas Brennan 824,887
Otis Smith 775,694
Meyer Warshawsky 445,329

Kavanagh and Smith were incumbents.

The state board certified all statewide races, all Circuit Court contests and elections in legislative and congressional districts which comprise parts of more than one county.

Special Holiday Stamp Called A Masterpiece

Every envelope bearing the 1966 Christmas postage stamp will be a masterpiece, Postmaster James E. Pryal said today. The special holiday stamp, a replica of a painting by Hans Memling, Flemish master of the Renaissance Era, is now on sale at the Escanaba Post Office was designed from the central portion of Memling's oil, "Madonna and Child with Angels" which was painted on wood about 1480.

Postmaster Pryal noted that use of the stamp for the sending of greeting cards assures first-class handling. That means the cards will be forwarded if the addressee has moved or will be returned if there is a return address.

This is the fifth in a series of holiday stamps and the Postal Service expects it to be another best seller. The initial print order was for one billion, two hundred million stamps. The postmaster estimated that 80,000 of the stamps will be sold locally.

Sky Hook For Traffic Snarls!

HAUPPAUGE, N.Y. (AP) — A sky hook to lift stalled autos from traffic bottlenecks has been proposed in a state legislative committee.

Sol Wachter, supervisor of the town of North Hopetown on Long Island, told the Joint Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs helicopters could patrol all commuter traffic in New York City and adjacent areas.

According to his proposal, helicopter lifting lines could be attached to a disabled car and hoist it out of the way to let traffic flow past the spot.

The copters would cost about a million dollars each, Wachter said.

Hearing Friday On Murder Count In Wojcik Case

Preliminary hearing on murder charges against Claire G. Stick, 44, of Ypsilanti, in the shooting of Walter Wojcik, 30, of LaBranche is scheduled for 2 p. m. Friday.

The hearing will be conducted by Justice Emil Ewald in the Menominee County Court-house.

Stick, a bargaining committeeman for United Auto Workers at the Ford Motor Co. Dearborn engineering plant, is being held without bond in the Menominee County jail.

Wojcik was found shot to death in a wooded area near his farm in Harris Township, Menominee County, Nov. 18. Stick was a member of a deer hunting party in the area at the time.

Archaeology Unit Meets Saturday

The next meeting of the Upper Peninsula Chapter of the Michigan Archaeological Society will be held in the Peter White Public Library, Marquette, at 2 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 3, rather than in the National Ski Museum, Ishpeming, as was previously announced.

There will be a panel discussion of the purposes of the chapter and the need for a centrally located museum in the Upper Peninsula to preserve the history of the region by Dr. Richard Sonderogger and Rev. Howard Brown, Marquette; Victor F. Lemmer, Ironwood; Rev. Roy Hansen, Ishpeming; Alvin Lydman, L'Anse; Charles Folle, Escanaba and Charles Taylor, Newberry.

Briefly Told

A not guilty plea was entered in Escanaba Municipal Court on Wednesday by Walter J. Russell, 229 Stephenson Ave., when he was arraigned on a charge of shoplifting. The complaint was made by the management of the Sav-Mor market, 308 Stephenson Ave.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Richard J. Dubord, 411 S. 19th St., for leaving the scene of a property damage accident after his car struck a light pole at 4th St. and Ogden Ave. at 2:30 p. m., Wednesday; and to Rose W. Perrin, 503 S. 19th St., for improper backing and not wearing glasses required by her license.

Autos must be removed from the streets tonight to conform to the winter parking ordinance that goes into effect today, said Escanaba police Chief Harold Finman. The ordinance requires that cars may not be parked on any street for more than one-half hour between the hours of 3 a. m. and 7 a. m. for the months of December, January, February and March.

Lehtonen was graduated from Negaunee High School. He received his B.S. degree in mining engineering from Tech and was commissioned upon completion of the Air Force ROTC program in 1955.

To Aid Brazil

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dr. John D. Ryder, dean of Michigan State University's Engineering College, plans to leave next month to spend 18 months helping develop a master plan for higher education in Brazil. THE TINY FINGERLING has three years to go before he catches up with the adult coho salmon held by Fred M. Bille, manager of the Leavenworth (Wash.) National Fish Hatchery. The adult salmon is one of 45 that have returned after being released into Icicle Creek three years ago. The hatchery is breeding fish that will swim 325 miles upstream to spawn. Reddi Xmas At Hannahville

Indians Get Electricity

There will be lights on the Christmas trees at the Hannahville Indian Reservation this year.

Through a unique cooperative venture between the Potawatomi Indian Community in Harris Township, Menominee County and several area persons and organizations, electricity will be installed for the first time in 16 homes in the Hannahville area in time for the Christmas holidays.

The Marquette Catholic Diocese, a community action agency, an Indian chief, UPACAP, an electric co-operative, local merchants, industrial and building groups in Lower and Upper Michigan and the Bureau of Indian Affairs all played a role in the electrification project which began last April with a series of meetings in Escanaba.

"We felt that we could not progress with any other cooperative programs in the Hannahville area until we had electricity installed," said Ray LaPorte, director of the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft Community Action Agency, who organized the project with the help of Joseph Sagataw, chief of the Potawatomi Indians at Hannahville, and Bill Bolin, Gladstone, field representative for the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

BEA Service

The first step was to negotiate with the Alger-Delta Co-operative Electrical Association, Gladstone, for the installation of a power distribution system that would run for approximately five miles in the Hannahville area to bring electric power to the community.

The co-op agreed to the program, but asked for a deposit as a guarantee against abandonment of services. Representatives of UPACAP, the Community Action Agency and the Bureau of Indian Affairs met with officials of Alger-Delta Co-op and negotiated a $6,000 deposit. The guarantee was required since an application is pending with the Bureau of Indian Affairs to erect new houses for the Indian families. If these homes were erected in a centrally located complex, the co-operative would suffer a considerable loss in relocating the lines to the new area.

"At first the problems involved in the Hannahville project seemed awesome," said LaPorte. "It's easy to implement programs if you have the money. In our case, though, we had no funds and needed contributions for the $6,000 and for all materials and labor."

No Aid Denied

In seeking these contributions, no request of LaPorte's was turned down. All funds and services were provided by private individuals or organizations.

In September, LaPorte met with Bishop Thomas L. Noa and representatives of the Diocese of Marquette Office of Community Affairs and after explaining the proposed program, he received assurance from Bishop Noa that the Diocese would contribute the $6,000 fee for the electric co-operative.

The next step was to secure materials for the wiring of the 16 homes in the Hannahville Area. The UPACAP staff secured these contributions from an economic planning organization. This organization agreed to supply the necessary wire, switch boxes and other materials for inside wiring.

UPACAP also asked a building and construction organization to donate the services of their members to complete the installation of wiring in each home.

"With all the broken promises of aid in the past, it was difficult to assure the Indians we meant business," LaPorte said. "But once they understood the program was going to become a reality, the Hannahville community cooperated in many ways."

Families Pay Fee
Tribal Chief Joseph Sagataw explained the program to his community and, along with Bill Bolin, helped collect the $5 membership fee from each family which was required by the co-operative before service could be established.

Bolin, Upper Peninsula representative of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, organized a program whereby the Indians are clearing approximately five miles of right-of-way so the line can be constructed. Many members of the Hannahville community are working weekends and evenings to clear brush and trees before the poles and wires are installed.

Area merchants also are providing used electrical appliances in good repair for many members of the community.

Electricity for Hannahville area residents will mean school children will be able to study by electric lights rather than kerosene lamps. For homeowners it will mean a chance to purchase a refrigerator so they can buy food for more meals than one or two at a time and thereby save on household costs. For the entire community, electricity will allow radios and television sets to bring them closer to the

Nicholas, Otto Wagner Retire

Two Chicago & North Western railroadmen, cousins Nicholas G. Wagner and Otto Wagner, are retiring from the Railway after a combined total of 92 years of service.

Nicholas Wagner, who lives at 1109 2nd Ave. S., is a locomotive engineer who has been on the steamliner for the past several years. He began work with the North Western as a fireman on April 19, 1917.

He was promoted to engineer in April of 1923. His retirement is retroactive to Nov. 2.

For several years he has been local chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Otto Wagner, 323 S. 23rd St., an employee of the Chicago & North Western Railway for 43 years, was retired effective today.

He began work with the railroad on March 1, 1924 and has been a stationary engineer, fire builder and laborer in the motor power department.

The Wagners are among 10 railroad employees who retired when federal legislation became effective providing additional monthly pension.

Brando Fed Up

ROME (AP) — Marlon Brando is fed up with making movies in Rome because he feels his privacy has been interfered with by the city's free-lance photographers.

American producer Ray Stark said Brando wanted assurances he would be protected from the photographers before he would make any more pictures in the Italian capital.

world about them.

LaPorte said that the electrification project is only the first step in providing a Community Action program in the Hannahville area. He hopes to establish a modest library in the community, to build a crafts program and provide other services.

"This is what Community Action is all about," said LaPorte. "Our Community Action Agency is not a give-away program, but rather we seek to motivate the needy to rise above their present circumstances and build a better life for themselves and their families."

White Christmas Predates Berlin

For a quarter of a century people have been sentimentally dreaming their way through a "White Christmas."

It was in 1941, the black-clouded war years had already begun, when Hollywood released: "Holiday Inn." The star of this movie was the ever-popular crooner, Bing Crosby. But perhaps the real star of "Holiday Inn" was the song written especially for the movie by Irving Berlin: "White Christmas."

Through the ensuing 25 years over 100 versions of the song have been recorded by almost as many artists. Yet "White Christmas" is synonymous with the name of Bing Crosby.

The poignant Christmas message that's found in the song has made it popular round the world. It has been translated into Italian, French, Chinese, German, Spanish, Hungarian, the Scandinavian languages, several Polynesian tongues and even Swahili.

Machine Tool Operators

10 From Delta To Graduate

MARQUETTE — Graduation ceremonies for 31 Upper Peninsula residents, trained for employment as machine tool operators under a federal government program at Northern Michigan University's Area Training Center, will be held Thursday, Dec. 8.

The graduation will bring to 1,511 the number of persons trained in one of 23 occupational fields at Northern's ATC under the Manpower Development & Training Act.

The Center was established four years ago to equip unemployed and underdeveloped persons with saleable skills required by technological change.

Principal speaker at the ceremonies, set for 6:30 p.m. in the University Center on the NMU campus, will be Phil Ensor, employee relations manager of the Dynamic Division, Eaton, Yale & Towne, Inc., Gladstone. The title of the address by Ensor, who currently lives in Kenosha, Wis., will be "Opportunity Unlimited."

Approval of the program was made possible through the cooperative efforts of the Manpower Development and Training Section, Michigan Employment Security Commission; Vocational Division of the Michigan Department of Education; and NMU.

Persons completing the 24-week machine tool class include:

Frank F. Frisque, Rte. 1, Carney.

Lawrence N. Deno, Rte. 1, Charles N. Marohnic, 1525 Stephenson Ave., Rudolph Norman, 204 N. 12 St., Allen R. Sarasin, 406 S. 17th St., Escanaba.

Snow Completes Holiday Setting

With the arrival of the Big Snow Gladstone has taken on a holiday atmosphere. The City Christmas Tree has been put in place in the city parking lot across from the City Hall and the garland put in place over Delta Ave.

This year's Christmas tree didn't travel far to its resting place, since the beautiful blue spruce which has been growing in front of Dr. Otto Hult's office was given to the city for this purpose.

Stores will be open Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays until the week before Christmas when they will remain open every night except Saturday.

Santa Claus will be in the business district during the evening shopping hours and on Saturdays to visit with his many little friends.

Smoking Report Stresses Rises In Death Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new and more ominous report in effect extending the government's contention that cigarette smoking imperils health — this time from the standpoint of increased death rates — has been issued by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The report attacks the subject from a somewhat different angle than the famed surgeon general's report of 1964. That report blasted cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer, and said it was either a direct cause of or closely associated with a number of other death-dealing D's.

The new report includes an analysis of death rates compiled from the records of every state health office in the country for the period 1950-1964 — and deals specifically with "mortality from diseases associated with smoking."

A spokesman for the Tobacco Institute, trade organization of the major tobacco manufacturers, said the institute had no comment to make on the new report.

Among the major findings of the report, prepared by the health service's National Center for Health Statistics:

1. Rises in death rates from lung cancer and emphysema — the latter already rated by the health service as "the fastest growing crippling disease in the United States" — were "of unprecedented proportions for noncommunicable diseases" during the period studied.

2. Mortality from chronic bronchitis nearly doubled during the period.

3. There were "substantial increases" during 1950-1964 in mortality from three of the eight groups of diseases which the surgeon general's report had said were "associated with but not clearly causally related to smoking."

Those three were: —Arteriosclerotic heart disease, including coronary disease, especially in the male population. —Cirrhosis of the liver—"with the most marked increase for the nonwhite population." —Emphysema—"especially for the white male population."

Shoplifter Kills Detroit Store Clerk, Escapes

DETROIT (AP) — A clothing salesman was stabbed to death Wednesday night as he fought with a fleeing shoplifter on the packed mezzanine floor of Hudson's downtown department store.

The assailant, who broke away from the grasp of a female store detective, plunged a knife into William J. Frederick Jr., 30, four times and fled through the crowd of Christmas shoppers.

Witnesses shouted "Stop that man!" and one bystander tripped the attacker, but he escaped to an escalator and disappeared into crowds on the street.

Police said Mrs. Bonnie Seat, 35, a store detective, spotted the man in the men's sportswear department and saw him put on a $180 coat. She called store security officers, then notified Frederick who was nearby and they took the man by either arm.

Mrs. Seat said the man knocked her aside, drew a knife and stabbed Frederick in the stomach and chest.

Short Butt Most Dangerous Smoke

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Cancer Society said today that smoking a cigarette to a short butt is a most dangerous smoking practice.

In testimony presented to the Federal Trade Commission the society said the nicotine content of the last few puffs is greater.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, vice president of the society and a leader in its plea for men and women to give up cigarettes, said the facts about butts should be brought out in tests the government is setting up to measure tar and nicotine content of various brands of cigarettes.

The FTC is completing a laboratory for the testing. Hammond testified at a hearing called by the commission to get suggestions on how the test should be conducted. Witnesses from the tobacco industry will get a turn on the stand later.

Earlier the cancer society put out a statement again making a plea for men and women to give up cigarette smoking "in order to protect themselves against cancer, emphysema and heart disease."

Bombs Were Duds

ENID, Okla. (AP) — Informed that two lunch boxes, in two discount stores, contained bombs, police gingerly carried them outside.

Officers ordered both areas evacuated.

The soldiers arrived the next day and dismantled the padlocked boxes.

Inside both were alarm clocks and pieces of concrete.

A&P how much cake should there be in a fruit cake?

Not much!

In fact, we think just enough to hold the fruit and nuts in place.

You see, our Jane Parker Fruit Cake is over 2/3 fruit and nuts.

Every cake is just bursting with cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

AND ONE OTHER THING YOU SHOULD KNOW:

It's the same wonderful cake... at the same low price as last year.
Isn't that good news?

Is it any wonder Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular Fruit Cake?

Is it any wonder it's become such a favorite gift item?

Is Jane Parker Fruit Cake a good reason for shopping A&P?
It's one of many.

Con Yagodinaki, 6 foot 5 inch senior from Holy Name, was one of five players in double figures for the Greens in a 95-83 victory over the Whites in Northern Michigan University's annual intrasquad game. Individual scoring honors for the game went to Bill Driskell, 6 foot 10 inch junior, and Ted Rose, 6-6 freshman from Louisville, who both hit 26 points. Coach Stan Albeck's cagers open their season Saturday night with a road game against Bradley. Their first home game is next Tuesday against North Dakota State.

Swen Shanks, heavyweight wrestler from Escanaba, is regarded by observers as one of the Upper Peninsula's best athletes in that sport. He lived up to expectations by pinning Kingsford's sophomore Bob Peterson in the second round of their match this week to give Swen a 27-23 team victory. Kingsford had built up a 22-22 lead going into the final match.

Green Bay Packer statistics this week reveal that rookie fullback Jim Grabowski owns the best rushing average on the team. The 6 foot 2 inch, 235 pound former Illinois star has gained 117 yards in 18 trips for a hefty 6.2 average per carry. Veteran Jim Taylor is Green Bay's rushing leader with 551 yards in 163 carries for a 3.4 average.

Paul Johnson of Waterloo, defending United States Hockey League scoring champion, is back at the top of the point race this season. Johnson has 16 points to lead Bill Reichart of Rochester by one. Reichart exploded with four goals in last Saturday night's 9-3 conquest of the Marquette Iron Rangers.

The Michigan Associated Press All-State football selections were released this week and they followed the pattern of the weekly state polls during the past season. All fouled up. The only U. P. players named to the All-State Class B selections were Frank Ahlrich, St. Ignace tackle, on the second team and Ken Brown, St. Ignace fullback, on the honorable mention list. St. Ignace isn't a Class B school, of course. George Oikarinen, Calumet's Upper Peninsula Back of the Year, didn't even rate honorable mention in the Class B list. Nor did Ironwood's Lee Belmas, U. P. Lineman of the Year.

One Place For Rangers To Go In Puck League

MARQUETTE — The Marquette Iron Rangers have only one place to go in the U. S. Hockey League — that is up.

The Iron Rangers suffered a double setback at the hands of the Rochester Mustangs last week and will be out to redeem themselves this week against the front-running Green Bay Bobcats in a twin bill Saturday at 8 and Sunday at 7.

Green Bay has sailed away five wins against two losses, both at Rochester. They have a formidable lineup on defense with Tony Bukovich, Ron Frelac, Gordy Yewman, Fuzzy Frenette and John Maysalich.

This fearless crew is noted for their ability to score as well as slow down opposing forwards. Yewman is a good example with his ten points and also his lengthy time in the penalty box. Yewman's last brawl was with Ron Johnson last week at Green Bay.

Coach (Oake) Brumma said he felt Johnson got the best of the scuffle so Marquette area fans will be looking forward to a renewal this weekend when the two clubs crash at the Palstra.

Pistons Turned Back By Chamberlain & Co.

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons couldn't cope with Wilt Chamberlain & Co. and today have slipped into third spot by half a game in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

Idle St. Louis climbed half a game past the Pistons, both trailing San Francisco, when the Philadelphia 76ers whipped Detroit 128-119 Wednesday night.

The New York Knicks edged

Andy Bathgate Sent To Minors

DETROIT (AP)—Andy Bathgate, the ninth highest goal scorer in National Hockey League history and one-time NHL Most Valuable Player, today is a minor leaguer.

The Detroit Red Wings, floundering in a six-game losing streak, sent Bathgate to the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League Wednesday.

"He's supposed to be a goal scorer and he hasn't been scoring goals," said Manager Coach Sid Abel. "I told Andy I'm hoping that three weeks or so at Pittsburgh will start him shooting the way he used to shoot. If he gets going, there's no doubt we'll be able to use him here again."

The 34-year-old Bathgate has played 17 games with the Red Wings this season, scoring three goals and four assists.

Last season, playing over an injury much of the time, he scored 15 goals.

Non-conference

The top two teams in the Great Northern Conference will clash here Friday night when Coach Harold Johnson's Escanaba Eskymos take on the Menominee Maroons.

Menominee rests in first place on the league ladder by virtue of victories over Iron Mountain and Kingsford. Escanaba has defeated Holy Name in its lone conference start. The Eskymos also have a non-loop decision over Marquette on their record.

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's a wonderful gesture I'll never forget."

The words were almost inaudible, but the crowds at Sunnyside Garden applauded the words of Barney Ross Wednesday night at the fight benefit for the former world lightweight and welterweight champion at the small club across the East River in Queens.

Ross, who is being treated for cancer as an outpatient at the Chicago Veterans' Research Center, spoke over a telephone hook-up from his Chicago apartment.

The benefit, attended by many celebrities, realized $10,800 to help defray Ross' hospital expenses. Most of it came from the sale of 100 tickets at $100 each. The money was presented by Father Frederick P. Gehring, a naval chaplain on Guadalcanal where Ross fought as a Marine during World War II.

Former world champions present included heavyweights Floyd Patterson and James Braddock and middleweights Mickey Walker and Rocky Graziano.

Emile Griffith, current middleweight king, and Carlos Ortiz, present lightweight champ, also were on hand. Representing other sports were jockey Braulio Baeza and catcher Elston Howard of the New York Yankees.

Walker led the 76ers with 30 points, followed by Chamberlain with 22 and Greer with 22.

Rookie Dave Bing got 28 for Detroit.

Walt Bellamy was deadly in the clutches and totaled 32 points as New York beat the Royals. Howard Kneives and Dave Stallworth chipped in 20 each for the Knicks.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson and rookie Flynn Robinson nearly pulled it out, scoring 19 of the Royals' last 20 points.

Robertson finished with 26 points and Robinson 21.

Jerry West led the Lakers to a 73-60 halftime lead and Los Angeles coasted in over Baltimore. West scored 29 of his 38 points in the first half.

Walt Mazarand, Edna Baylor and Jim Barnes each scored 16 points for Los Angeles. Gus Johnson led the Bullets with 17 points.

Friday night sees Detroit at Boston, Los Angeles at Philadelphia and New York at St. Louis.

Holy Name also makes a home stand in the conference Friday night, entertaining Stephenson. The Crusaders dropped their season opener to Eskey then stepped outside the league to beat Marquette Baraga. In addition to facing Stephenson here Friday night, Coach John Butrymowicz's cagers will be on the road Saturday night for a game at Ishpeming.

Statistics released today by Ken Peterson of Escanaba reveal that Menominee's Pat Miller leads the individual scoring race with 50 points. The 6 foot 3 inch junior will carry an average of 25 points per game into the Eskey contest. Paul Miller of Escanaba is second in the total point list with 35, but he scored them in his team's single conference start against Holy Name, giving him a bulge of 10 points over Pat Miller in the average-per-game column.

The Maroon standout also leads the league in rebounds with 33, followed by Tom Smith of Holy Name and Tom Matz of Menominee with 13 each. Again, Miller compiled his total in two games, as did Matz.

Leading the conference in field goal accuracy is senior Tom Plouff of Holy Name with four for five. Eskeymo Paul Miller is setting the pace from the free throw line with 9 of 11.

Topping the conference players in assists is Dan Mylander. Escanaba sophomore starter, with an even dozen.

Another Fish Bonanza Sought

King Salmon To Join Kokanee

Michigan's Department of Conservation, which this year seems to have dealt the state's fishermen a new winning hand with the coho salmon, is getting set to sweeten the pot for these anglers.

Next spring it will raise the sportfishing stakes by introducing young chinook (king) salmon in a Michigan stream yet to be picked. Plans are to later release these fish, which reach lunked size up to 60 pounds or more on the West Coast, in more Great Lakes waters if all goes well in that first stream to be stocked.

The Department, in this bid to boost the take of Michigan anglers, will have to put up a comparatively small ante.

It is starting with one million chinook eggs which were donated by the State of Washington. Also holding the project's costs down is the fact that the rearing of these fish will be relatively inexpensive, mostly because they will be in a hatchery only a few months before they are put into the stream.

On the other side of the coin, Michigan sportsmen stand much to gain if chinooks take hold in this state's waters. These fish, the most prized salmon catches among sport fishermen in the West, will offer terrific trophy fishing if they thrive as well in the food-rich Great Lakes as the coho has.

Should that happen, many chinooks will grow to the 15-40 pounds class within their three-five year life cycle. What red-blooded fisherman wouldn't like to tie into one of these big tackle-busters?

Michigan's near-perfect combination of water conditions for promoting salmon production and the seemingly endless supply of forage fish in the Great Lakes make the chinook's successful introduction a better than even bet.

ON TAP TO JOIN MICHIGAN'S growing list of sportfishing attractions is this, the chinook, a close look alike to the exciting coho which has already made a big splash in this state, ranks as the most prized salmon catch among sport fishermen in the West. Recently, the State of Washington donated 1 million chinook eggs to Michigan. From these eggs, the Conservation Department hopes to rear 800,000-900,000 young chinooks which will be placed at 3-4 inches next spring in a Michigan stream yet to be picked. If these new fish thrive as well in the food-rich Great Lakes as the coho many of them will grow to the 13-40 pound class within their 3-5 year life cycle to provide terrific trophy fishing.

Michigan's fishing fun bigger and better. Hopefully, it will join the group of other salmonids—the steelhead, coho, brook trout, lake trout, and coho salmon—which in different but equally important roles gives great promise of revitalizing the Great Lakes into the world's top fresh-water fishery.

Rex Stout, 80, Begins New Nero Wolfe Tale

Successfully introducing a new fish species is never a sure-fire thing, of course, but by all scientific standards, Department fisheries men rate the chinook as well worth giving a try. They point out that the Department has very little to lose, and just about everything to gain toward making the Great Lakes the mecca of the midwest for fishing action.

Chinooks are expected to gobble up troublesome, low-value alewife by the tons—all

When this new fishery develops, anglers will get top with artificial lures and such natural fish-food as smelt and alewife. They should use heavier tackle than they now do or they will be telling big ones that got away.

Those that land the trophy fish will be in for some mighty rich-red meat commensurate price for salmon. Chinooks, in all, the chinook has what it takes to help make

By MARION E. PRILLOK
DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — It would take a considerable metaphysics for sure, gray-haired, white-bearded author Rex Stout to become the overweight, dark-haired, crumpled Nero Wolfe whose adventures in criminology have been the subject of 48 of Stout's published works.

In the first place, Nero Wolfe, despite 32 years of literary detecting, is ageless.

Rex Stout celebrates his 80th birthday today, and is marking the occasion by beginning a new Nero Wolfe story.

Writing the book will take the usual 30 days. Stout neither rewrites nor rewrites. Allowing for time out for the holidays, the book will be published, according to Stout, on May 2 or 10.

Both Stout and Nero Wolfe credit a good part of their success to logical thinking. Stout describes logical thinking as the ability to consider a problem without introducing the extraneous.

He ascribes this ability — ergo, Wolfe's — to an arrangement "somewhere in my head."

He holds this same arrangement responsible for the fact that by the time he was 10, he had read the 1,200 books in his parents' library.

His sister, author and gardening expert Ruth Stout, says Rex began to read when he was 18 months old.

Gave Mother Book
"I rather doubt that," says Stout, "but I do remember that after I was 2, I started saving my money to buy my mother a gift. On my third birthday, I gave her a book."

Stout's wife, Pola, is a textile designer. He has two married daughters.

Born in Noblesville, Ind., Dec. 1, 1886, Stout states unequivocally that he left Indiana at the age of 1, "because I was fed up with Indiana politics." He grew up near Topeka, Kan.

His appearance believer statistics. He neither looks nor acts his 80 years.

He is keen and vital, and exudes a lusty masculinity.

Stout's biographical data says he has been, successively, an office boy, store clerk, bookkeeper, sailor, hotel manager, inventor of the school thrift system — adopted by schools in 423 cities in the United States — and author.

In addition to writing 44 books in the past 36 years, Stout was master of ceremonies for the "Speaking of Liberty" radio programs in 1941 and the "Voice of Freedom" programs in 1942.

Devotees of Nero Wolfe will find contradictions and similarities between the fictional Wolfe and the actual Stout.

Does Stout, like Wolfe, admire orchids? "No. They are not my favorite flower," Stout goes on. "I like a variety of tall, bearded iris. He also grows numerous varieties of day lilies, vegetables and fruits."

Unlike Wolfe, Stout spends a great deal of time outdoors. In winter, he enjoys playing chess and tending his plants.

Like Wolfe, Stout enjoys good food and its preparation. He cooks dinner about three times a month at Highlands, the estate straddling Danbury and Brewster, N. Y., where he has lived for the past 36 years.

Stout's wife, Pola, is a textile designer. He has two married daughters.

Travels 24,000 Miles To Smooth President's Visit

When President Johnson decided to visit New Zealand on his tour of the South Pacific it meant 24,000 miles of travel for Lawrence Robert of the U. S. State Department.

Lawrence, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jovite Robert of Gladstone Rte. 1, has been working for the government for 20 years and with his family is now stationed with the American consulate in Beirut, Lebanon, at the east end of the Mediterranean Sea.

He tells the story in a recent letter to his parents, given here in part:

"As you can see I am back home (in Beirut) and very happy to be here. I was called to New Zealand to help the Embassy there to make arrangements for the President's visit.

"A Good Trip"

"The telegram came on Sunday noon and on Monday at 6 p. m. I was leaving the Beirut airport. I did not arrive in Wellington, New Zealand, until Wednesday night at 6 p. m.—exactly 48 hours of flying from Beirut. All this without stopping long enough for a few hours sleep in a bed.

"After arriving in Wellington we all worked like beavers for as long as 16 hours a day. After the President left, I was all ready to return to Beirut when suddenly I was called to Australia and then to Kuala Lumpur to help in those posts.

"As a result, I did not get back home until the first week in November after having traveled 24,000 miles. All in all it was a good trip and a very interesting experience. I can not say that I would like to undertake another similar trip tomorrow but if asked to do so I would have to go."

Several Languages

At Beirut he rejoined his wife, Eliane, a native of France and their son, Gerald, now about eight years old.

Gerald was born in Rome and (like his parents) speaks several languages. For the family has lived in India, Italy, France, Cambodia and Lebanon. Lawrence—besides his English—speaks French, Italian, German and a smattering of other languages sufficiently well to make him valuable to the State Department.

After the trip, "life in Beirut is pretty much the same routine as before," Robert reported. Eliane is busy with her home and Gerry is in school.

"We are just now starting to get cool weather and we look forward to it. It has been a long hot summer and a bit of cool weather will do us a lot of good."

The cooler weather brings with it another obligation to the State Department staff even in remote Beirut.

Go Where Sent

"We are rather busy at the office these days as is usually the case in November. This is the month for all Congressmen and Senators to travel to the various areas of the world. All of them usually make Beirut one of their stops along the route. This means work for us since we are required to give them the 'very important people' treatment."

Robert's career job brings him into contact with many people and situations, and this he likes tremendously, he said on a visit to his parents a few years ago. His facility with languages comes from experience rather than formal training, for his education includes attendance in local schools plus the State Department training school.

"We go where we are sent," he said in explanation of the many places he has lived in the past 20 years.

Besides his parents, he has three sisters residing here—Mrs. Roy Nadon, Mrs. Wilfred Richter and Mrs. Art Pepin, all of Gladstone Rte. 1.
